Covering 5 Countries: AT, CH, DE, FL, IT

Alpine Network Pro Patrimonio Montano (PatriMont): <http://www.patrimont.org>

Our main target: Mountain Eco-Types

- We look after half a dozen endangered breeds that occur across borders.
- A main focus is on rebuilding the breeding of easy climbing Black Alpine pigs.
- We are delighted to be able to rely on experts from the SAVE network for this.

What we expect from the SAVE network

- Promoting good practice in project development
- Promoting the search for old breeds in countries where no one else is doing so (today still essential e.g. in the Balkans)
- Continued operation of the databases created by the SAVE Project Office and preservation of documentation
- Acting as a point of contact for GOs in the countries and with international organisations
- Monitoring international developments and assessing their impact on NGOs
- Representing NGO concerns at international organisations (FAO, OIE, etc.)

What we may contribute to SAVE network

- Experience with the procedure for searching for relict groups of old breeds
- Advice on setting up conservation projects, etc.
- Experience in cross-border cooperation between NGOs (including in multilingual areas)
- Collaboration with research institutions in the home country and abroad, etc.

Thank's for your attention
